Editorial

The Reasons Why every scout and guide unit should become a subscriber to The Mysore Scout & Guide is because—

It is the official organ of the Bharat Scouts & Guides, Mysore State.

All Headquarters notices, notifications regarding State Level, National Level and International event appear in this magazine. To communicate such information to all, by the Headquarters or by the District/Local Associations entail heavy correspondence and expenditure. Hence, be in touch with what's on in Scouting and Guiding world by becoming a subscriber right now.

That Extra Zero :

In the June issue of our magazine on page 7 the world census of Cubs was given as 3,300,3000 whereas it should be 3,300,300. We know, one day that strength would be reached and the extra zero would become justified.

What ? When ? Where ?

ALL MYSORE STATE

Watch for details.

The Eight Ages

(With apologies to Shakespeare)

All Scouting is a stage,
And each chap in his time plays several parts,
His acts being Eight Ages.

At first the CUB

Circling and howling in Akela's care.
And then the whistling Boy Scout, with rucksack
And shining bicycle, Pedalling like mad
Most merrily to camp. And then the Senior Scout
Touched to fine issues, doubting, venturous.
And then the Rover, electric-shaved or bearded
Like the bard, soon turned to Scouter,
Firey and keen in training, seeking the bauble Wood Badge.
And then the D.C. in sleek motor and fine form
With knowing eye and Scout Suit of latest cut,
All tactful, and so he plays his part.
The seventh stage shifts into the lean
And hurried old A.S.C. with spectacles on nose
And youthful shorts, well saved, a world too vast
For his shrunk shank ; and his once manly voice
Falling to reach (unless the mikes are good)
Beyond the first two rows. Last scene of all
That ends this strange eventful history,
Some H.Q. Job and near oblivion
Sans Cubs, Sans Scouts, Sans Camps, Sans everything.

CUBBING — how it all began

By

K. KASINATH, D.C.C.
Hdqrs. Commissioner (Cubs)
Mysore State

Smaller boys wished to become Scouts. 'B. P.' saw at once that a flood of small boys as Scouts would have the effect of making it the "Kids game" some on-lookers taunted it with being, and of alienating the older boy. Of these small boys he wrote in the Headquarters Gazette for January 1914: "They are apt to overstrain themselves in trying to do the same work as bigger boys in the same uniform." Although Wolf Cubs were not officially recognised till 1916, after two years of experiment 'B.-P.' had the answer by the end of 1914 and so the younger boys were given a Law and Promise, just high enough for them to read and grasp; they were given in the first and second start tests a path of progress to walk along as their brothers did with their second and first-class tests; and in place of the romantic background of explorer and pioneer and "peace Scouts", the little boys were given their own romantic background of the Jungle. With a characteristic touch of genius Baden-Powell took Kipling's Jungle Stories and made them a parable.

In August 1936 the first National Conference for Cub Scouters was held at Campbell College, Belfast, and guests were welcomed from other parts of the Commonwealth and from a few foreign countries. Two years later the first International Wolf Cub Leader's Conference was held at Gilwell Park and attended by representatives from twenty-five different parts of the world. N. D. Power, Miss Veera Barclay played a notable part followed by J. F. Colquhoun, Headquarters Commissioner for Wolf Cubs, who gave energetic and understanding help to the Section for many years.

In 1956 a second International Cub Conference was held in Edinburgh a gay occasion under the Scottish Blue and Silver Sky. There had been the merited if expected tribute to Cubbing: You are the people, "Lord Rowallan said, "who start little boys on the trail of happiness, in service to others."

In 1956 the Cubs celebrated their fortieth birth-day with innumerable good turns and a camp at Gilwell where many well famed in Cubbing over the years came with younger generations to be happy in reminiscing despite one of the wettest week-ends of a rainy year.

The Jubilee year: 1957 was Golden year—the Centenary of B.-P's birth the Jubilee of Scouting 30,000 cubs arrived at the Sutton Park. No less than twenty-three special trains were put on by the British Railways to cope with the situation; 10,000 cubs came by special coaches and more came in by other means.

1966 Cub Jubilee year (1916-1966) let us celebrate the event in a fitting manner. 50 years of cubbing. Cub Golden Jubilee.

CAMP — MEET — CONFERENCE

A.S.O.Cs (S) & (G) of our State were in camp from 5th to 8th July '66 to exchange views, get guidance, plan for the future, all under the leadership of Sri T. V. Nilakantam, our technical adviser. An occasional meet of these field workers is sure to prove useful and beneficial to promote Scouting and Guiding in the State on right lines.

Our State Chief Commissioner and State Commissioner (Scouts) as also Hd. Qrs. Commissioner (Cubs) spent considerable time at this meeting as to get an insight into the working of A.S.O.Cs. in our State.

Executive Committee Meeting: was held on the 8th July '66 at our Central Training Camp. Business apart, to meet at our state training centre with its various added amenities viz: swimming pool, shooting range Boating facilities was itself a thrill and many a member felt happy at the idea of the meeting held here.

Former Scouts & Guides: About twenty in number drawn from various professions, old in age but young in spirit assembled in camp under the leadership of their President and the veteran scouter Sri Mir Iqbal Hussain. Led by him the members renewed the promise round the flag, recalling perhaps on the occasion to memory of their boyhood days and particularly as Scouts, now bound together as former Scouts, to meet at regular intervals and spend a useful time and to plan as to how best they could be of service to the youngsters and in this Sri P. Shivashanker, Chief Commissioner (S) India gave many a valuable suggestion and addressed them aptly befitting the occasion, with his usual calmness, humour and dignity all from the mature experience he had gathered as a Scouter spread over a number of years during which time he worked in varied capacities, in our State, at all India level and his tours abroad to attend a conference or a Jamboree.

Commissioner's and Secretary's Conference: A State level conference of Commissioners and Secretaries was held on the 9th July '66 at the Central Training Camp. Some of the members made it possible to arrive a day earlier and enjoyed camp life and a camp fire too, which was informal and Sri Nilakantam addressed the members in his intimitable way.

Hon'ble Minister R.M. Patil, declared the conference open and in the course of his speech expressed his appreciation of the get-to-gether and complimented saying that Scout movement was an unique organisation working for integration and that he had great admiration for this movement, which has a pledge so solemn and trained the members to serve India and the world at large, in a greater measure. He urged for the development of Scouting in the Villages.

Smt. Leela Anjanappa, State Commissioner (Guides) proposed the vote of thanks.

Conference : With as many as twenty four items on the agenda and under the leadership of the S.C.C. assisted by S.C. (S) & (G) the meeting commenced in a business-like way. As all the items could not be covered in the morning, the members adjourned for Dinner and reassembled in the afternoon. The conference did prove helpful and useful as it threw light on many matters regarding the working of the Districts, with a view to regularise, standardise and systematise and promote activities in such a way to work up for increased efficiency.

The Hon'ble Minister R. M. Patil, honoured us by dining with us. He also toured the camp area and before he left, he shook hands with every one of the members present.

An HMT wrist-watch, a Bangalore product was presented to Sri Nilakantam, as a small token and in appreciation of his very valuable services rendered to the Mysore State during his short term of office as S.O.C. (S) cum Technical adviser.

Many and varied were the modes of conveyance by which the members had come to the camp. Some of them travelled long distance by car, all of which prove their genuine interest in Scouting and Guiding and it is hoped that ere long our movement will make a headway both in numbers and quality.

Sri V. P. Deenadayalu Naidu, State Secretary, thanked all the members present for their co-operation and for making the meet of the Commissioners and Secretaries, a success.

Sri H. Y. Ramaiah, B.Sc., B.Ed., who has been appointed as State Organising Commissioner (Scouts), Bharat Scouts & Guides, Mysore State, Bangalore joined duty on the forenoon of 22nd July 1966.

Sea Scout-Master's Training Course Mangalore

3-5-1966 TO 16-5-1966

The Sailors numbering 8 drawn from South Kanara University, Hassan, Chickmagalur and Bangalore Districts formed the crew of the Ship Fleur-de-le.

This Ship was commissioned on 4th May '66 by our Hon'ble Health Minister Dr. Nagappa Alva, although the Vessel was actually set to sail on 2nd May 1966 with Shri H. V. Mukundaiah, A. D. C. C., as its Captain. Shri V. Govindaraj, A. S. O. C. (S)., Sri K. S. Changappa, A. S. O. C. (S)., (also a Trainee on the Course) and Shri C. Ramachandra Rao, A.D.C., Mysore were in-charge of different Departments of the Ship.

The Sailors were divided into two Watches, for the Port and the Star-Board sides named respectively as the Whales and the Seagulls.

At the Port the Ship enjoyed all the facilities with the kind and willing co-operation of the Port Officer, Capt. F. J. Fernandez, who kindly spared his men and materials.

During the Course of the Ship Fleur-de-le—the Group Commander of N.C.C. obliged us by placing at our disposal the services of his technical personnel.

The Sailors experienced a thrill while actually they were about 6 knots in the deep Sea in the Steam-launch "Nethravathi".

Hon'ble Minister for Co-operation Shri K. Puttaswamy, visited and was kind enough to give us valuable advice.

It is my duty to express our indebtedness to the Port Officer, Capt. Fernandez, Group Commander Lt. Col. Joshi, Commanding Officer—Lt. Balgami, Mr. D'Souza Mr. Jahangir Singh, the Secretary, Bunts Hostel, Heads of Institutions, Department of Education and Publicity, University, Lions Club etc. I sincerely thank Shri Vijayakumar, District Publicity Officer, and Mr. John Ray, Secretary of the District Association for their kind co-operation and help. May God shower his choicest blessings on all of us so that we can be of greater service to the Community.

Romance and adventure of Sea Scoutmaster's Training, Karwar

—H. Y. RAMAIAH

The fun, the thrill, the romance and the adventure of sea—It can never be forgotten in life-time by those who attended the Sea Scoutmasters' Training course held at Karwar in the month of May 1966.

The campers had the privilege of living under canvas just a few yards from the sea which helped the course in many ways to have their multifarious activities. So many varieties of boats were available to the campers apart from easily accessible steam launches supplied by the port authorities which added to the variety and splendour of sea activities. The calm and courageous campers manoeuvred the boat themselves as experts on a rough sea in several of the boat trips. To quote some interesting instances?

1. A boat to carry 6 persons was towed to a nearby beach (3 miles) by a steam launch. The sea was rough. The trainees steered the boat, the bow of which was just an inch from the water, back to the camp very courageously carrying 11 persons with an absolute non-swimmer on the boat.

2. From Anjadev a scout with the help of another person paddled his canoe to Bindige three miles of the Anjadev Islands to bring some commodity for the camp and returned again on a rough sea at 10 O'clock in the night with no land-marks clearly visible to him except the light of the camp fire.

These are a few of the instances. A good number of these helped the campers to remember the Sea man's promise and the Scout Law every moment of his life at the course which was a very good success due to the unstinted cooperation of all — we cannot but remember the cooperation of Sea fisherman for their timely help and cooperation by lending their boats whenever necessary.

Can there be a better thrill than when persons in the boat were thrown out of it by huge waves and the scouts smiling and searching for their canoe and oars?

Or when the campers were sleeping on the beach on an isolated island when at night the sea-water came stealthily to kiss their feet?

Or when the crabs were giving company by walking all over their body when sleeping and forced scouts to shift from place to place to find new friends awaiting them ?

Or when Scouters were thrown on to the beach while searching shells to make them into woggles to take them as a memento ?

Or enjoying peacefully the high and angry sea fighting against the rocks of Anjadev Islands removing the bullet marks caused by our valiant seaman at the time of liberation of Goa ?

Or when having campfire on the beach in the company of beacon from light-house and the roar of the sea ?

Or when meeting a President Scout on Cargo ship from Greece ?

All said and done—How was the Sea Scoutmasters' Training camp? It can be very simply said, "Simply Grand."

Thanks to these adventurous seaman who dared to go on sea, inventing new vessels and knots, paving way for conquering the sea, which has helped us in the camp to move about on the sea fearlessly and bravely getting courage always which made the scouters better men in the camp and better ones to fulfill their obligations to their nation through future citizens on whose shoulder the honour of the country lies.

Our praise for the Almighty for his care and his blessings on this course.

(Leader of the course Sri K. B. Nanjappa, A.D.C.C. Assisted by Sri H. Y. Ramaiah. Thanks to Sri S. D. Gaonkar, D.C.(S) and Sri John D'Souza, Secretary, for their invaluable help in organising this course and to Captain K. Kumanan, Sri Martha and Sri Stanes for having acted as able instructors Sri V. P. Deenadayalu Naidu, S.C.(S) for having inaugurated the course and Sri Srinivasan, I.P.S., Superintendent of Police for having presided over the valedictory function)

My experiences of

WATER FRONT COURSE

5th to 19-6-1966

By ROVER S. K. MEHTA

On the morning of 29th May, 1966 I left Bangalore for Srinagar by train. The journey from Pathankot to Srinagar by bus was a pleasant journey. The Scenic beauty of the place amores anyone. Crossing many bridges, lakes and tunnels we made our way to Srinagar. The tunnels built by Germans have wonderful yellow lights which attracts anyone who passes that way.

The total number of campers were 20 and out of them 9 were Rangers. One from Mysore, 2 from Delhi and 6 from Bengal. Among the 11, one Rover from Mysore, 1 Scout Master each from Delhi and Andhra Pradesh. 1 ADC and one District Scouter from Maharastra, 2 Rovers from W. Rly, 2 Scout Masters from E. Rly. and 2 from S.E. Rly. The age of the men were between 28-38. The expenditure incurred by them was borne by their district or State and their leave was treated as on official duty.

Training : We were taught the modern techniques of swimming by the teaching staff Mr. Surjit Singh from YMCA, Mr. Affandi a local Scout Master and Miss Anima Dutt from Bengal.

The main object of this course was to teach how to rescue people from drowning and to bring out those who are drowned. In order to achieve perfection it is good to know a few points.

The person trying to rescue should personally be a good swimmer, otherwise he may be the second victim. As soon as the rescuer finds a person drowning he should remove his clothes within a split minute and approach the person by a surface dive and free style as it consumes less time. When he reaches the spot he should try to turn him round and by holding his chin, cover the distance by adopting "Side Stroke". If the drowned tries to catch hold of the rescuer he should immediately dive and by twisting the legs of the person and turn his body so that his back comes in front of the rescuer, with one hand above water to avoid water getting into his belly and supporting his back with the other hand should cover the distance by adopting "Back Stroke". If the rescuer by chance has a rope, he can tie 'Bowline-on-the Bait to the waist, he can start swimming and thus rescue the person. He should see that the knot comes at the back to facilitate easy swimming. If the rescuer does not know swimming he can adopt non-swimming skills i.e., after tying a bowline at the end and coiling the rope he can throw it to the person drowning or a rubber tube having air so that he catches it and saves himself. The use of boats comes under special rescue methods. Free style is advocated for attaining speed and breast stroke for underwater swimming while back stroke for relaxing.

After the victim is rescued, his extra clothes should be removed. His mouth and nostrils should be cleaned to allow the air to enter his lungs freely. If he is unconscious the water should be removed from his body which can be done by bending—over your thighs so that his belly is pressed and the water is forced out. Schafers or Holger Neilson's method of artificial respiration could be adopted and if there are wounds, Mouth to Mouth respiration method can be adopted. The person should be covered with blankets to warm up his body and a hot cup of coffee after he regains his consciousness would help him a lot.

We used to have our campfire every day and we used to enjoy them. All the campers freely participated and if not, they were forced to join by our Camp Commandant. I learnt Hindi, Bengali, Kashmiri, English, Ceylonese, French and German songs to some extent.

Kit inspection was a daily feature and most of the days we won and by aggregate marks also. It was due to the honest efforts put in by Mr. Roy of Bengal and myself. We were also good at games.

As regards the individual performance, I got the maximum marks among Rovers for maintaining discipline and the maintenance of log book. Mr. Banerjee of Calcutta won in the practicals.

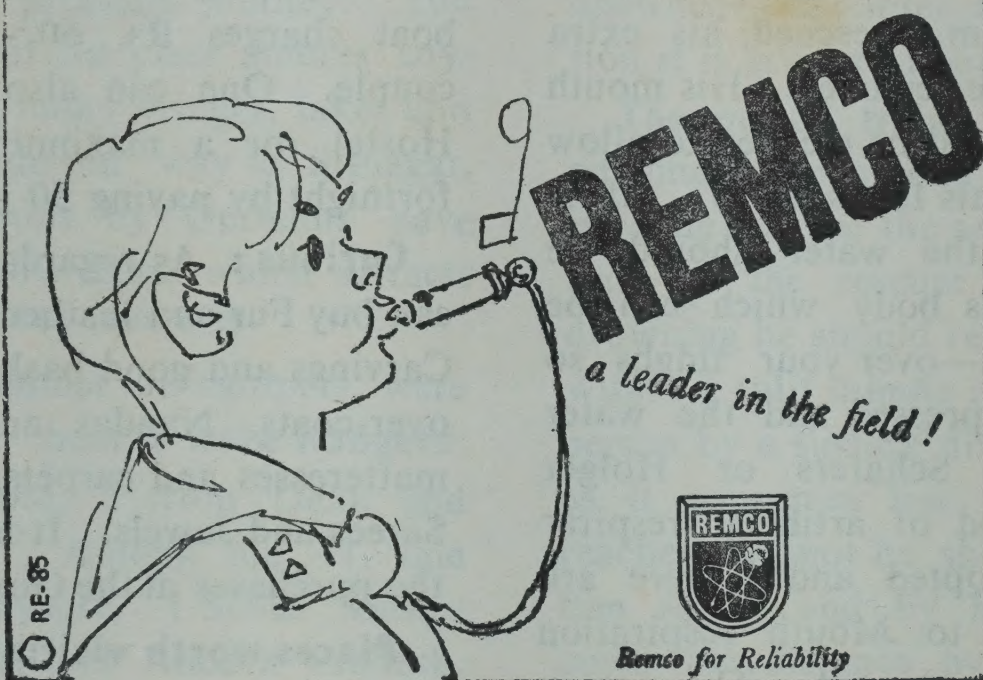

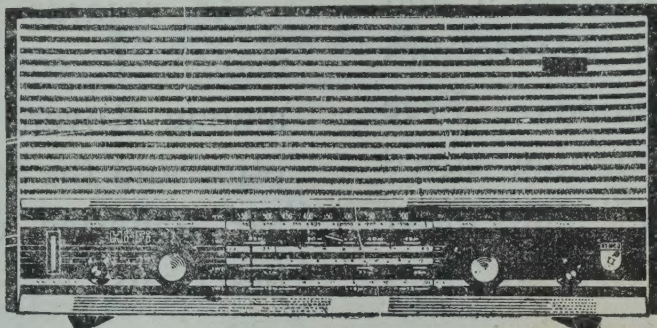

Accommodation : First Class house-boat charges Rs. 60/- per day per couple. One can also stay at Youth Hostel for a maximum period of a fortnight by paying 50 paise per day.

Curious : As regards purchases, one can buy Fur and leather goods, Wooden Carvings and good baskets, Shawls and over-coats, Nandas and Gumbas i.e., mattresses and carpets, Kashmiri Silk Sarees and Jewels. It is better to make the purchases at the Government Depot.

Places worth visiting are Shalimar, Nishad and Chasmashahi Gardens, Haravan Water Works, Gulmurg and Khilan marg, Chandwadi and Patelgav and Shankaracharya's hill.

Kashmir is a wonder land with its beautiful mountains, rivers, lakes and I enjoyed my every minute of my stay. I never knew how I spent my 17 days which ticked by, just like 17 minutes. I am very grateful to the authorities of the Mysore State Scout Headquarters for having afforded me an opportunity to attend this course.
